

Reports are that the new Watch Station in Jarrold is going great guns and the Resident team just loves the new look accessories department. Although probably not as much as we are coveting the traditional looking 'Nate' men's watch, £105 by Fossil. The clear face and robust brown leather strap makes this a classic piece at an affordable price.

With animal motifs still on the style radar (see page 66 of this month's interior pages), this cheery Cockerel print, £65 unframed, by King's Lynn artist Amanda Colville is the perfect piece for getting the look for your home. Or if you prefer the coastal look this Southwold Lighthouse print from Norfolk artist Amelia Bowman, £145 framed or £95 unframed is just the ticket. Both will be available at this year's Norwich Print Fair.

September is the perfect time to get a new bag. It's reminiscent of school days when your satchel was crisp and new. Get the grown-up look with this Texier ladies hazelnut briefcase, £416. The gorgeous leather and classic style makes this a timeless statement bag that will last you for years.

✦ The Tannery, Royal Arcade, www.thetannery.co.uk

We also adore this tiger motif necklace, £85 from Tatty Devine. It's the perfect piece to update your tops and dresses for the autumn season and it would look great worn under the collar of a shirt.
